

WINONA PLANNING BIG CELEBRATION FOR FREE BRIDGE

Invites People of Two States to Function Now Being Arranged

Plans for an inter-state celebration to mark the removal of the toll from the Winona bridge Dec. 1 were made at a meeting of the Merchants, Civic and Agricultural bureaus of the Association of Commerce.

Considering the occasion to be an important one for residents of both Minnesota and Wisconsin it was decided at the meeting to invite those living in the surrounding territory in both states to join in the celebration.

Governor R. A. Nestos of North Dakota will be invited to deliver an address here and Charles M. Babcock, Minnesota highway commissioner, and A. R. Hirst, Wisconsin state highway engineer, also will be invited to take part in the program.

Bands from half a dozen Wisconsin towns, including Galesville, Arcadia, Alma and others, and possibly several in Minnesota will be asked to furnish music for the day. The ceremony has been secured in which to hold the program and lunch will be served there to all visitors without cost.

Negotiations designed to relieve the city of ownership of the bridge when the toll is removed were practically completed.

The Minnesota section of the bridge—approximately five-sixths of the structure—as well as the main street approach to the bridge from Trunk highway No. 3 (Broadway), will become the property of the county and will be maintained with financial aid from the state, as a result of its forthcoming designation as a state road.

The Wisconsin section of the bridge, as well as the dike road between the bridge and Bluff Sidings, have already been incorporated by the Wisconsin highway department into Trunk Highway No. 25.

Formal designation of the Minnesota section of the bridge and the main street approach as a state aid road awaits only the actual removal of the toll Dec. 1, officials said. The only requirement laid down by the Minnesota highway department for such action was that the city of Winona pay $5,000 for certain repairs to the bridge, which, in the opinion of engineers who made a recent inspection, are necessary at this time.

DENVER, Col.—Phyllis Sylvester, 27, who claimed to have invented the rotary shuttle of the sewing machine, was found dead in his shack here Monday night.

MR. AND MRS. CARL CASBERG OF HOLMEN CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING ON THURSDAY

MR. AND MRS. CARL C. CASBERG

Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Casberg, pioneer residents of Holmen, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Thursday. Mr. Casberg is 74 years old and his wife is seven years his junior. The day's activities were opened in the morning with services in the Holmen Lutheran church at 11:35. After this, and continuing throughout the afternoon, a banquet and reception were held in the Progressive hall. Approximately 500 friends and relatives from miles around came to congratulate and renew acquaintances with the honored couple.

The golden wedding was solemnized in the morning in the Lutheran church, with Rev. Karl Kasberg, nephew of the groom, and at present pastor of the Lutheran church at Grantsburg, Wis., officiating. Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Casberg of North La Crosse, attended the couple.

At the first banquet serving, toasts were given, among them being one by Rev. E. O. Vik and another by Dr. Gunderson, both of La Crosse.

Pioneers at Holmen

Mr. Casberg was born in Norway, September 18, 1849, and came to this country in July, 1861, settling in this vicinity. Mrs. Casberg was born February 12, 1865, near Holmen. They were married November 22, 1873, and resided in Long Coulee on a farm, a mile and a half out of Holmen, until a few years ago when they took up their residence with their son, Henry, who owns the adjoining farm. Mrs. Casberg's father, Berre Stoen, was the first settler in the vicinity of Holmen. When he settled here, there were only six log cabins where La Crosse now stands. Mr. Stoen was born in 1814, and died at the age of 94 years.

Seven children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Casberg, six of whom are still living. Three of the sons, Henry, Carlton, and Garfield, are farmers in Long Coulee, while the fourth son, John, is the proprietor of the Holmen service station. One of the daughters is married to Mr. Robert Sundman, manager of the Holmen Mills, and the other to Mr. E. E. Solberg, assistant cashier of the Holmen bank. Both daughters reside in Holmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Casberg have 29 grandchildren. They are: Mrs. Wilbur Larson, Agnes, Myrd, Lester, Mildred, Clinton, James, Bernard, Carl, Roy, Helen, Anna, Kroner, Melvina, Selva, Elaine, Iene, George and Norma Casberg; Hazel, Roderick, Roland and Ernest Sandman, and Carl, Milton, Edna, Gretchen, Wilda, and Robert Solberg. They also have one great grandchild, Marjorie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Larson of Council Bay.

YOUNG LADS HAVE FINE HIKE AND A LUNCH ON BLUFF

Saturday morning, there assembled at the Y. M. C. A. the young lads of the city, from 9 years of age up, the average being about 10 years, for the hike to the top of Cliffwood bluff, and inspection of Eagle Nest, the new cabin that has been built on the brow of the bluff.

Before starting, the boys were divided into small patrols, under the leadership of an older boy. Each patrol had its name, and every group leader instructed his boys in a suitable call, so if the group should be broken up, they could quickly assemble. The hike started promptly at 9:30, led by Dan Young Bear, in his trial costume. It was an inspiring sight to see the little lads trudging along with their little bags of eats, behind their silent leader, whom they held in awe.

On the slope leading to the top of the bluff, the boys collected fire wood, and also cut for themselves four sticks, with which they cooked their meat. Upon reaching the summit, a group of boys was set to work making the fire, and the rest of the boys assembled in Eagle Nest cabin and listened to Dan speak in the Mus-quantened lie tongue, and then interpret his talk in the English language. He also sang for them, accompanied by the tambourine.

The boys present also had an opportunity to observe the destructive work of vandals. Unfortunately, several cans of tar had been left in the cabin, which were to be used in completing the work. These cans had been opened by vandals, and the contents spilled over the side walls and windows. Two of the windows had been broken entirely out, and two others contained holes from rifle shots, which were fired at a very close range. Fortunately, the vandals left their names, using tar to print them in a conspicuous place, with the result that the guilty young men will spend many hours considering the wrong they have done to the men who constructed the cabin, and to the boys for whom it was built.

After cooking their meat on the camp fire, the boys, many of them cooking their first meat in the open, were a bit skeptical regarding meat on which flakes of ashes clung, but when this meat was placed between two slices of bread, and one bite had been taken, the sandwiches rapidly disappeared, and scouting was assured of another boy who would join the ranks and learn the scout ideals.

After the lunch, the boys lined up and were instructed in the scout grip by Dan Young Bear, followed by Mr. D. W. MacWille, president of the La Crosse council, to whom the boy gave his name. After this, the boys again assembled around the camp fire and gave nine rabs for Dan Young Bear. Soon after this, the long descent to the base of the bluffs began. Half of the boys in the party had never been on top of Cliffwood before, and many more had never cooked meat in the open.

Sunday afternoon, Dan Young Bear was the guest of the Toman Young Bear. He returned to La Crosse in time to speak at the First Presbyterian church in the evening. Monday and Tuesday he will visit the lower grades of the public schools.

RATE CUT WILL HALT BIG ROADS' BUILDING PLANS

May Spend as Much as Billion for Improvements if Rates Stay Up

BY HARMON COLFON, Special Correspondent of the Tribune

WASHINGTON.—A railroad buying program for 1921, involving the expenditure of from $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 for new equipments and improvements, has been mapped out by leading roads.

Whether this great sum is to be spent or whether it will be withheld due to bare necessities, the correct answer is authoritatively advised, depends almost wholly upon the attitude of the coming congress, the first session of which convenes soon.

If congress indicates fairly early in the session that there will be no radical revision to present laws, the railroad will go ahead with their buying plans.

In each case, however, it is understood that the amount will be allowed to be spent only if the program for 1921 is approved. Most of the $2,000,000,000 under the program is to be expended in the next few months, but the balance will be carried over to 1922.

2 Billion This Year

rates largely because the roads, they claim, under present tariffs, were assured of revenue sufficient to enable them to make interest and amortization payments. If those tariffs are reduced, the railroads claim investors will demand higher interest and the 1921 program will have to be reduced.

Roads Waiting
Present indications are that there will be no fight in congress over the whole subject of transportation. As the situation stands today, the fight would center around a reduction in rates on agricultural products. The railroads waiting attitude was back of the significant statement issued recently by the board of directors of the American Railway Association in New York in which virtually the entire 1921 program was dismissed with the following sentence:

"It is too early at this date to anticipate what the total capital expenditures for 1921 will be."

HEALTH INCLUDES MENTAL EDUCATION

By CORNELIUS S. LINFIELD, Metaphysician.

Health in its broadest sense is mental freedom, a quality of the understanding. It consists of wisdom acquired from the soul of man, therefore it is not alone a physical problem, but as well, a mental or metaphysical one.

At this time of the year certain changes are taking place in nature, and with these changes comes corresponding changes in the human body. Today, these changes are considered mental as well as physical, and upon the body is recorded the various effects of these changes. Without a correct knowledge of the workings of nature in the fulfillment of this law of change, we are apt to misconstrue the sensations thus produced, and through the operation of fear which is inherent in the human mind, we actually resist nature from doing her work, and as a result get into more trouble in which our suffering is increased a hundred fold.

We should remember that nature is preparing us for the cold winter months, for instance, by thickening the blood and hardening the muscles and sinews, and that this process is not to be contemplated upon the fear of some special disease developing in the system. To view it from this standpoint is an injustice to ourselves and to mankind, and in a sense, is un-Christian. Such a view is demoralizing for it actually paralyzes the proper mental qualities that we possess, and should use in overcoming what is called disease.

We should be law-abiding in the highest sense of the word, but this does not consist in arraying before the public any thought of fear which might perpetuate and even create disease. The public should never be made to become more fearful, but to the contrary they should be told that when these changes are noticeable, to keep quiet and restful, using whatever remedy they think helpful, and if necessary to employ the aid they know will help them. We all know that like produces like. In the same manner, fear produces more fear and untold diseases are the result. No one in this whole wide world wants to be sick. No, not even for one minute. To the contrary, everyone tries with all his might to destroy it; tries to free himself from its effects, and this is only natural for we should put forth all our efforts to restore harmony in the body. But in so doing, we should absolutely abolish fear. We should be told that the spread of disease is mental and not alone physical, and therefore our education should be broadened to include the mental vision of disease so as to further enlighten the public. Cornelius S. Linfield. — Advertisement.

75 Years Ahead!
WHEN the first Kurtzmann was offered to the musical public of 1848, it was quickly acclaimed as a superior instrument to the pianos of that day. That advantage never has been lost! The Kurtzmann of today is just as far ahead of the usual run of pianos as was the Kurtzmann of 1848. That's why the 75th Anniversary of Kurtzmann Pianos has a real meaning for the buying public. If you only know the Kurtzmann by name this is the time to become better acquainted.

I HAVE CAPTURED THE ENTIRE COMMUNITY!

I broke all selling records last week. I tore out the side of La Crosse's trading traditions.—F. JOSWICH.

Yes, I packed this store to the limit—I'm going to keep this store packed until Saturday, December 8th, 10 p. m. How? I'll tell you, folks, with four vital factors.

1. Truthful Advertising
2. Fraser Clothing Co.'s Good Reputation
3. $47,000.00 Stock of High Grade Men's Clothing, etc.
4. Unbelievable Low Prices.

I turned La Crosse upside down, by value-giving that made the old-time prices look like a selling plater in comparison. That's why we sold thousands of dollars worth of goods, when hundreds was the rule. Store is now in stage of the most drastic price cutting campaign ever pulled off in La Crosse. You owe it to yourself to glance over these prices, and then you too will help crowd our aisles.

Remember this is not a sale for gain, but a price slaughter in order to sell one-half of this High Grade Clothing Stock in 16 days at just what I can get for it. The prices are nothing short of an INSULT to today's wholesale prices, but I am forced to make this price slaughter in order to sell one-half of this Big Clothing Stock in sixteen days. It's a big job but prices will do it.

The prices herein quoted will give you only a vague idea of what savings are made possible.

COLUMBIA ACADEMY BATTLE ST. RITA HIGH AT CHICAGO

Second Columbia Eleven to Play for Catholic Championship
this Year

DEBQUE, Iowa.—Special.—For the second time this year a Columbia academy team will journey to Chicago to play for a Catholic championship. Coach John Cretzinger's Columbia academy squad plays St. Rita high school of the middlewest next Saturday. The academy squad hopes to fare better than the Columbia varsity squad which lost the Catholic championship to St. Victor by a 2 to 0 score.

Columbia which has not been defeated in two years claims the Catholic academy title of Iowa. This year it has scored 82 points to 12 by its opponents. In the first game of the season it defeated St. Ambrose academy by a score of 7 to 0. Other victories of the Indiguers include, St. Mary of Clinton, defeated 41 to 0, and St. Xavier which fell 42 to 0, and St. Joseph and Luther boys which were defeated by the scores of 25 to 0 and 44 to 5, respectively.

St. Rita high school which Columbia will meet has defeated every Catholic school in the city of Chicago. The team is coached by Lauchlin of St. Ignace and will probably outmatch its Catholic opponents by at least twenty points to a man.

NEW YORK.—The Big Three and many of the other important football teams have laid their moleskins away in camphor balls against another season, but there is still some good football on tap.

Thanksgiving day will see, among other games, the classic Cornell-Penn contest at Philadelphia, with the odds favoring Cornell despite the improvement shown in recent weeks by Lou Young's team. Pittsburgh, too, has a good turkey-day game between Pittsburgh and Penn State which, on the dope—the latter team should win.

New York will have the Columbia-Dartmouth game—the final contest between Percy Haughton and Jessie Hawley—and Dartmouth gives every indication of being the winner.

1924 GRID SCHEDULE MAY FIND MICHIGAN ON ILLINOIS' CARD

CAMPAIGN, Ill.—"May Michigan and Illinois meet next year, Shake Michigan." This is the keynote of an editorial in today's Daily Illini, student newspaper of the University of Illinois.

"We would like to see a championship game with Michigan this year, but we realize it is impossible," said the editorial. "Michigan has been a worthy and respected rival. She has won her championship this year in the face of injuries and setbacks that would have shaken the morale of any but a great team. To Coach Vost and Michigan our heartiest congratulations."

The editorial reflects campus sentiment which was strong today for a resumption of football relations with the Wolverines. Bob Zupke followed it up with a statement that he would be glad to schedule a match with the Vost men.

The Illinois schedule, otherwise than the prospective addition of Michigan, is likely to be practically the same as this year.

DISPUTANTS ADVANCE CLAIMS TO SHOW ONE OR OTHER HAS BETTER CLAIMS FOR TITLE

CHICAGO, Ill.—Illinois and Michigan, each with an unblemished record, today are sharing honors for the 1923 western conference championship. The Wolverines are on top of the Big Ten for the second consecutive time, having divided the first place position with Iowa in 1922.

Both Given Honors
Disputants advance claims to show that one or the other of the championships has a better record, but in absence of any officially designated champion the percentage record leaves the two divisions on a par.

Michigan earned her place by defeating Minnesota on Saturday 10 to 0 in the final, while Illinois lifted herself up on the championship pedestal with a 9 to 0 win from Ohio State.

The season's outcome as a consequence of these victories left Illinois with a perfect string of five wins from conference teams, while Michigan had its list of four straight conference decisions.

The relative records shown by these games are used as the basis for claims advanced by partisans of the teams. Each of the eleven played Ohio State, Iowa and Wisconsin. Michigan defeated Ohio State 23 to 0; Iowa, 9 to 3; Wisconsin, 9 to 3. Illinois defeated Ohio State, 9 to 0; Iowa, 9 to 0, and Wisconsin, 10 to 0. Iowa crossed Illinois' goal line while no opponent was able to score a touchdown against the Michigan team, although two field goals were scored.

Chicago by overcoming the strong Wisconsin team, 13 to 6 in a hard fought final game, earned for itself an undisputed claim to third place in the conference with only the 7 to 0 defeat at the hands of Illinois to mar its record. Five conference victories were won by Chicago, who did not play Michigan, however. Northwestern, Purdue, Indiana, Ohio State and Wisconsin were victims of the Maroons.

Minnesota Fourth
Minnesota found herself in fourth place, with victories from Northwestern and Iowa, a tie with Wisconsin, and a loss to Michigan. Iowa won half and lost half of its six games with victories from Purdue, Ohio State and Northwestern and defeats from Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota. This fifth place was shared with Indiana, who defeated Northwestern and Purdue and lost to Chicago and Wisconsin.

The Badgers who threw a scare into all of their opponents dropped into seventh position after losing to Chicago on Saturday, one week after the disastrous game with Michigan, lost on a fumble. Only one win, a 52 to 0 victory from Indiana, graced the Badger record sheet while there were losses to Illinois, Michigan and Chicago and a tie with Minnesota.

Ohio finished eighth, winning only from Purdue, with losses to Michigan, Iowa, Chicago and Illinois. Purdue placed ninth by defeating Northwestern and losing to Iowa, Chicago, Ohio and Indiana, while Northwestern was without a victory.

While teams disputed for honors, among individual players Harold Grange of Illinois stood out as the spectacular backfield man of the season. He led scorers with 72 points to his credit.

Martineau of Minnesota was his closest competitor in the conference with seven touchdowns and one field goal for a total of 43 points.

"SIX DAYS"—STRAND
What will they wear at the Paris opera this season? Probably the Corinne opera costume, designed and worn by Corinne Griffith, acting the leading feminine role in "Six Days," by Elinor Glyn, which comes to the Strand theatre tonight and Tuesday.

The Corinne opera costume is made of six pounds of sparkling brilliants and an ounce and a half of this frothy, frivolous material—you know, girl!

The brilliants are fashioned into a shimmering bandeau across the hair. Three strands of them reach from the crown of the head, and reach over the shoulders to the waist, and then they trickle down the gown in shimmering threads all about, pausing only at the waist in a slim girdle.

Corinne Griffith wears it in "Six Days," in which she and Frank Mayo appear.

"APRIL SHOWERS"
Can you imagine a cabaret scene in a moving picture without dancing girls?

The Tom Parham "April Showers," which is now showing at the Rivoli Theatre, shows one of the most unusual cabaret scenes ever filmed. The beautiful girls who appear in the entertainment do not dance for a very good reason. They are mermaids and fish which usually dance merrily on studio sets are encased in gracefully curving fish-tails.

"THE FIGHTING BLADE"
It is a worthy commentary that Richard Barthelmess, whose "Fighting Blade" is now at the Majestic for the sake of a realistic portrayal of his role went without a haircut for months in order to wear it as was the fashion with the Roundheads, as Oliver Cromwell's followers were called.

It was this style of crapping their hair that caused them to be called Roundheads, as distinguished from the Cavaliers who wore theirs in long curls. Dorothy Mackall gives a very pleasing performance opposite Mr. Barthelmess.

MARION DAVIES PLEASURES IN SCREEN "BOY" ROLE
Marion Davies has a difficult role calling for the highest type of acting in her new Cosmopolitan picture, "Little Old New York," at the Casino for six days. The young star plays Patricia O'Day, the little Irish girl who comes to America and masquerades as a boy. The role of a boy is difficult at best for any girl to assume.

It has remained for Marion Davies to add another distinctive "boy role" to screen annals. She makes of "Pat" a manly, plucky little chap who is still lovable and appealing. She does not overdo the part, but invests it with a touch of delightful and subtle comedy which marks her characterization as a great achievement. "Pat" fights with the rowdies of the neighborhood, but keeps a loyal, tender heart—a woman's heart—for Larry. "Pat" even takes a beating, which is one of the dramatic climaxes of the picture, all for the sake of the man she loves.

"GOLD DIGGERS"
A more famous and higher priced cast than the one playing the roles of "The Gold Diggers," adaptation of David Belasco's play of the same name would be hard to find. The cast includes Hope Hampton, Windham Standing, Louise Fazenda, Gertrude Short, Alec Francis, Jed Prouty, Art Gilman, Peggy Brown, Margaret Seddon, Johnny Hannon, Ann Cornwall, Edna Tichenor, Frances Ross, Marie Prado and Louise Beaudet, Harry Beaumont directed.

"The Gold Diggers" starts at the Rivoli Theatre on Wednesday for a four days showing.

LITTLE GIRL WALKS AFTER CREEPING FOR TWO YEARS
Little Helen Jonas, of 500 Avon street, who for more than two years was forced to crawl, about her home on her hands and knees because of paralysis of the legs, walked into The Tribune office Saturday morning. She was able to walk unaided.

The story of Gretchen McDonald of McDonald of Mindoro, who appeared this week before the county board of supervisors, to give visible proof of what had been done for at the Bradley Memorial hospital, Madison, where an operation on her right foot enabled her to walk after 14 years of being crippled, was the cause for the appearance of Helen Jonas in the Tribune office. Gretchen McDonald was the first of the county and state, her case was taken up with orthopedic authorities by Mary A. Regan, county nurse.

Helen Jonas was brought to the Tribune by G. H. Rishmiller, chiropractor who has treated the girl's case. The child was stricken with paralysis of the legs about two years ago. She had no control over the movement of her feet, they nearly flopped on the ground. Certain internal organs also were affected.

After some months of treatments, according to Mr. Rishmiller and the girl, she was able to walk and her legs are rapidly regaining their ability to function normally. The little girl attended the St. John's parochial school on the north side, walking to and from school to her home each day. She also does much walking around the neighborhood.

LITTLE GIRL WALKS AFTER CREEPING FOR TWO YEARS
Little Helen Jonas, of 500 Avon street, who for more than two years was forced to crawl, about her home on her hands and knees because of paralysis of the legs, walked into The Tribune office Saturday morning. She was able to walk unaided.

The story of Gretchen McDonald of McDonald of Mindoro, who appeared this week before the county board of supervisors, to give visible proof of what had been done for at the Bradley Memorial hospital, Madison, where an operation on her right foot enabled her to walk after 14 years of being crippled, was the cause for the appearance of Helen Jonas in the Tribune office. Gretchen McDonald was the first of the county and state, her case was taken up with orthopedic authorities by Mary A. Regan, county nurse.

Helen Jonas was brought to the Tribune by G. H. Rishmiller, chiropractor who has treated the girl's case. The child was stricken with paralysis of the legs about two years ago. She had no control over the movement of her feet, they nearly flopped on the ground. Certain internal organs also were affected.

After some months of treatments, according to Mr. Rishmiller and the girl, she was able to walk and her legs are rapidly regaining their ability to function normally. The little girl attended the St. John's parochial school on the north side, walking to and from school to her home each day. She also does much walking around the neighborhood.

LONDON.—The politicians have scattered to their constituencies and the whole country is humming with preparations for the election. Prime Minister Baldwin frankly admits that he blundered into it accidentally. He had no idea of the effect his Plymouth speech of Octo-

It is extremely improbable, however, that the Liberals will be called upon to form a government. There are three parties in the House of Commons who are fighting for protection and the Liberals and Laborites, both of whom are defending free trade. Hence, a conservative government, if elected, will have a protection platform, although the majority of votes will be cast for free trade.

with a smaller majority than he enjoyed in the last Parliament. It is impossible to carry the protectionist program in the face of the majority of votes for a trade case.

If Beaten, What?

The real problem will arise if a premier comes back defeated, as is possible, though improbable, after office. What will he do with the laborites? Is a joint administration? The writer thinks not. It is more probable that larger labor parties will be formed in the smaller parties, not wishing another election to give it the necessary support.

The present aim of the Liberal labor parties is to beat each other with the position of second largest party in the House of Commons.

The next step is to elect a Liberal-Labor Government, and then to

CALEDONIA JOINS IN CELEBRATING GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hill
Guests of Honor at Big Celebration Last Week

CALEDONIA, Minn.—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hill of Caledonia celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Monday, November 19. During the 8:15 o'clock mass at St. Peter's Catholic church, Rev. M. Boersch performed the beautiful anniversary ceremony in the presence of hundreds of friends and relatives of the honorable couple.

Following the church festivities a large number of relatives and close neighbors gathered at the Hill's fine home on South Pine street, where they assisted the joyful couple to make merry their anniversary. The dining room was most artistically decorated with gold trimmings and yellow chrysanthemums. A sumptuous dinner was served at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill were presented with a large purse of gold coins and many other beautiful gold presents, a token of esteem and respect from their family and friends.

Mr. Hill, who is a native of Grier, Germany, came to this country in 1863, at the age of 18, working at odd jobs until 1884, when he entered the hotel business on Kingston street. In 1904 he disposed of his place of business to Henry Koenig and he retired from active management.

When the St. Peter's Catholic Aid society was organized in 1887, the charter members needed some good dependable member to take care of the secretaryship. They selected Mr. Hill, and they have elected him at every annual meeting since, covering a period of over thirty-six years. The large membership and the sound financial condition of the society today is largely the result of the hard work and untiring efforts of its secretary.

He was elected county commissioner of the Second district in 1904, the people returning him by a big majority at the 1908 and 1912 elections. Never did he shirk his duty while on the board, most of the time as its chairman.

He also served a number of years on the village board at Caledonia. In 1906 he purchased a large interest in the Caledonia Wagon and Iron ton, Texas, their places of business covering nearly one-half of the entire block. One of the enterprises, the Ford garage, is now being enlarged to 1873, by Rev. Father Koerber. The following children were born to them: Henry P. Hill, Pine Island, Minn.; Kate M. Hill, Granville, Iowa; Mrs. Eva Kunst, Caledonia; Mrs. Theresa Roverkohl, Caledonia; Nick H. Hill, St. Paul; John H. Hill, St. Paul; Anthony Hill, Caledonia; and Anna, now deceased.

Of the remaining children all were present at the anniversary except John. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hill enjoy the best of health and their large host of friends wish them continued good health and happiness.

SPANISH ROYALTY VISITS FLORENCE

FLORENCE, Italy.—Seeing Florence in one day was the task of King Alfonso and Queen Victoria of Spain Satur-pions. Centre has one more game to play before it can claim that honor, meeting Georgia December 1.

MINSTRELS ON RIVOLI PROGRAM SCORE BIG HIT

One of the biggest and best vaudeville shows presented this season was billed at the Rivoli theater Sunday with the photoplay, "April Showers," and will continue Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. George Primrose with her minstrels featured the show. The act was one of the best ever seen on the vaudeville stage. The six minstrels and their interlocutor presented some primirose and dances. Mrs. George Primrose is wife of the late "king" of minstrelsy and has condensed some of the best things from her husband's shows and presented them in a vaudeville number.

Lauren and La Dars presented an unusual talking and singing act that scored a decided hit. A cleverly arranged bit that they produced was a line of dialogue with musical answers.

The questions were answered with bits from popular songs. The two people were able to play the accordion, saxophone, steel guitar and carinet with great ability.

A series of laughs were evoked from the audience with the skit presented by Walsh and Austin. Their delightful songs and repartee added zest to the program and were greatly appreciated. Ethel Austin is a former Fel-lies girl and wore a number of striking gowns.

Emil Boreo, Russia's foremost comedian, made a pronounced success in his vaudeville number. He has played with the "Chauve Souris" and gave interesting bits from that popular show, including the dance of the "The Wooden Soldier." His songs and chatter were decidedly clever.
